The Tooth of the Matter

Millbank Dental Care is a private Dental clinic situated in Westminster London, which was established in 1997 by Dentist Dr Martina Syron. We were recently awarded the 2016 Global Excellence Awards category of the Best in Cosmetic Bonding in the UK, something we are very proud of indeed.

It is staffed by a team of experienced dentists & specialists who keep up to date with developments in their fields. This gives us a true multidisciplinary approach to patient care which we believe is the way forward in good modern dentistry.

Dr Syron is delighted & proud to be recognised for her work in bonded restoration of teeth, which she has been carrying out for many years and written many articles to raise patients' awareness of the advantages of this technique over more old-fashioned options of crowns and veneers.

Bonding is a technique where layers of composite material (tooth coloured) is applied and built up to adhere strongly to tooth surfaces, especially good for cosmetic improvement on front teeth as a more conservative, elegant solution than veneers.

I would like to underline that bonding is half the cost of the alternative crown/veneer options to the patients and the dentist, because the procedure is done directly at the chairside, with no laboratory costs involved. I do believe that this skill is done directly in the hands of the dentist, with their experience and artistic ability being utilised in this respect.

Examples of applications: to lengthen short teeth, fill gaps on spaced teeth, straighten the appearance of twisted teeth, build up worn & aged dentition on back teeth, and is a great solution for children who have fractured pieces of front teeth in accidents.

As it is an adhesive technique, using minimal intervention with emphasis on preserving as much natural tooth as possible.

Clinical research published by members of the team at Millbank Dental Care, into management of tooth wear, and long term (10-year survival rates) of various solutions, strongly supports bonding technique for good long term prognosis of the teeth.

We strongly believe with this preventative approach more of our patients will be able to keep their teeth for life and want to raise awareness of more conservative options in Dentistry so we attract people who are interested in keeping their own teeth, in the best possible condition and appearance, and we continue to grow & thrive on personal recommendations from happy and valued patients.
